

Accelerate Graduate Program

Explore a world of opportunity and see how our Accelerate Graduate Programme can enhance your career in the Data & Analytics Industry. Through structured learning, hands-on projects, continuous feedback and supportive colleagues, the Programme will give you the chance to grow and make an impact.

Our Accelerate Graduate Programme lasts for 2 years and is specifically designed to support your learning and development, to unleash your potential and build the foundations of a successful career.

Your future starts now!

Real Work with Real Responsibility

You will have the opportunity to work alongside colleagues in various stages of their careers, and be encouraged to share your thoughts, recommendations and opinions. You'll get work on real projects and make an impact from day one.

Investment in your ongoing growth

In addition to your personalised career plan, we have a series of initiatives to ensure you have plenty of learning and development opportunities to fuel your success, including training courses, and certifications.

Personalised Career Plans

At Altis, we take a personalised approach when it comes to your career. Our bi-annual career discussions allow you to think about your goals, interests and strengths and align those to key learning and development activities.

Continued Support

You will drive your development, with regular access to business leaders for coaching and advice. You will also be assigned a performance coach, who can offer guidance and support. While there are plenty of learning tools in place, you'll benefit most from the people around you.

The Altis Difference

Our approach: We focus on building happy, long term relationships with our clients and in turn, create better connections between them and their data. We make a firm commitment to improving our client's business performance, providing the best people and greatest depth of expertise.

Our mission: We're the data and analytics partner of choice, working with our clients to improve business performance and deliver tangible outcomes.

Our relationships are built by embracing our ethos of connecting with courage, heart and insight.

Courage to tell it like it is and meet every challenge head-on.

Heart to care passionately about your personal and business results.

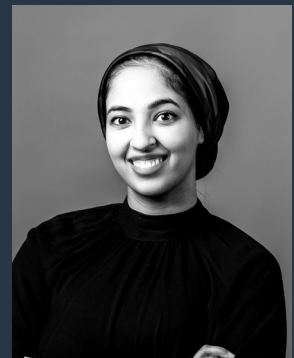

Insight derived from years of industry experience delivering real and positive differences.

In simple terms it means making a firm commitment to our clients and sharing the responsibility of delivering their outcomes.

We are always looking for talented graduates to join us!

We know that it's our people that provide us with our competitive edge and we know that for our people to perform at their best, we need to provide a positive and motivating environment where they can grow personally and professionally.
